Hebo Toscana IGT

The name of Hebo is taken from an ancient Etruscan settlement, and recalls the historical roots of Suvereto.

Bright ruby red.

On nose it reveals fresh aromas of black cherries, violets, blueberries, peonies, mineral hints and nuances of maquis shrubland.

The taste is fresh, sapid, light, pleasantly fruity, subtly sapid, with gentle, welltailored tannins

VINTAGE 2021

James Suckling – 91

Enticing aromas of redcurrants and blackberries with notes of kalonji and black cardamom. Medium-bodied with a clean run of black fruit and very fine, well-integrated tannins. Nothing really complex, but elegant and nicely focused. Cabernet sauvignon, merlot and sangiovese. Drink or hold.

Wine Enthusiast –88

On the nose this Tuscan red blend offers black cherry, blackberry and meaty rich umami flavors including leather, woodsmoke and pepper. Lots of plum and cherry come out on the palate along with savory notes of soil and balsamic vinegar. Bright acid gives lift even as tannins are softening.

VINTAGE 2020

James Suckling – 90

This has aromas of black plums, black olives, tar and undergrowth. Medium-bodied with chewy tannins. Savory and flavorful with good length. Cabernet sauvignon, merlot and sangiovese. Drink or hold.

Wine Spectator – 89

Though concentrated with blackberry, plum, earth, savory tomato leaf and eucalyptus flavors, this red is also lean in profile. Firms up on the finish, where dusty tannins emerge. Cabernet Sauvignon, Merlot and Sangiovese. Drink now through 2027. 21,600 cases made.
